About the Project

Metro Cash & Carry is an wholesale enterprise where only business customers are allowed to purchase at METRO. There is an online web platform available in market but they wanted it to be more functional where they could increase the traffic. In addition they also needed mobile applications for both the native android & native ios.

Mahindra - Glyds has the below three applications for their project:

01

Metro Website

02

Metro Native Android App

03

Metro Native IOS

Challenges

To design a platform which would function at any complex scenario & also meet their business needs. Balancing the business criterias & the design solution is the challenging part

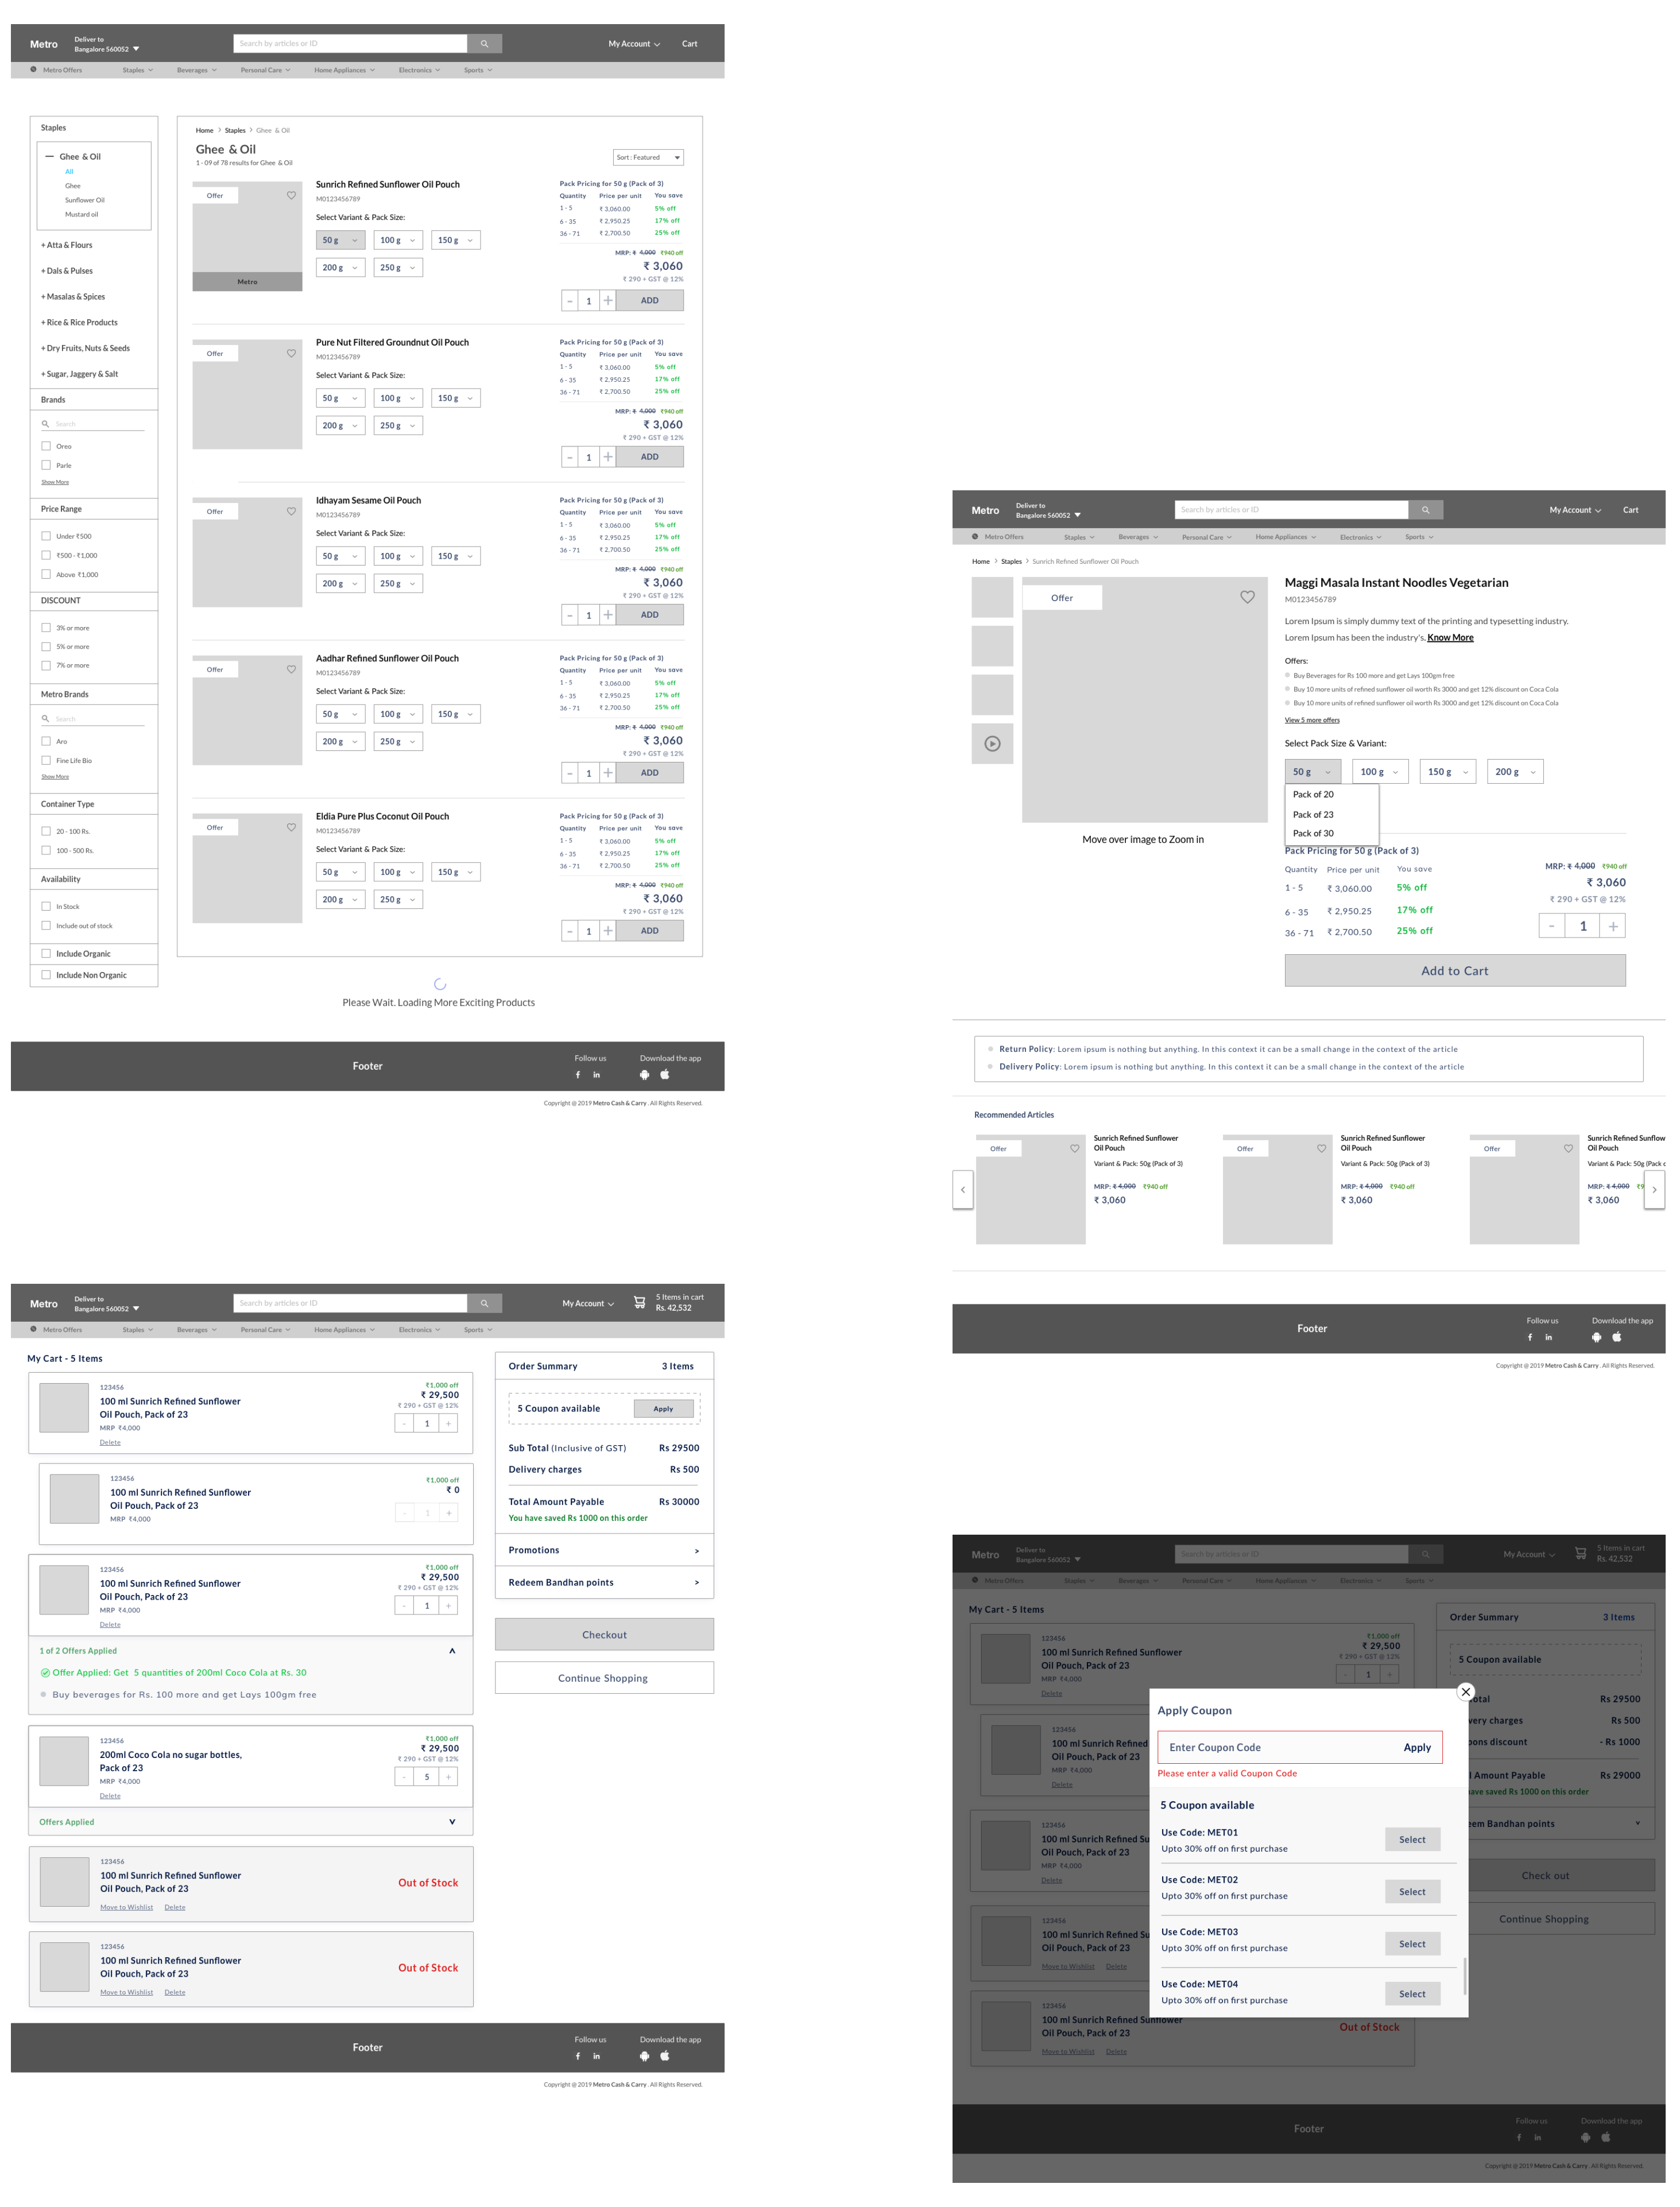
My Role

01

Metro Website

User Experience Design & Interaction Design

The Metro Website is an complex platform, where it has a many business criterias to be meet balancing the design elements. Got an opportunity to work in few modules for the web & have learned that every problems which we solve are like the jigsaw puzzle which is connected with the whole beauty of the picture.



02

Metro Native Android App

User Experience Design, User Interface Design & Interaction Design

Got an immense opportunity to create wireframes & define the interactions for the native android application.

Metro Native IOS

User Experience Design & Interaction Design

So working with the native ios is very interesting. It all started with the basic understanding of the Human Interface Guidelines & then the design thought was defined. So its not all about the work alone its all about the learning curve also.
